

I am strongly opposed to a change in the rules governing ownership of media. More specifically, I am opposed to having rules changes making it easier for media outlets to become further consolidated into fewer large corporations. These corporations already control too much of the of the medias. They should be restricted even more than they are today.